Editorial

As we have just celebrated Halloween and are about to experience Bonfire night, I thought it might be appropriate to have a look into the origins of both these events. Halloween goes back to Celtic times (with a celebration called Samhain which marked the transition from Summer to Winter, when they believed souls returned to their homes. Christians celebrate All Hallows Day (all Saints' Day) on the 1st of November. So, the 31st of October is All Hallows Eve.

I always thought 'Trick or Treating' originated in America, but apparently not. It goes back to the 16th century in Scotland and Ireland where people went from door to door, dressed in costume, doing tricks and rhyme for something sweet to eat. The custom became popular in the USA in the 1950s, but had been around in America since the 1920's. (All info. so far courtesy of my search engine).

Although I don't remember doing much Trick or Treating with my children, my son and granddaughter are really into it, and my son has made some "gravestones" from wood to put in his garden to scare the local children this year (in the best possible taste). My granddaughter also gets her mum to make a special outfit for the occasion, and she and her friends greatly enjoy the event (usually accompanied by some willing parents).

We are all familiar with the origins of Bonfire Night and Guy Fawkes who was born in 1570 in Stonegate, York. He, along with a group of other Catholics led by Robert Catesby, plotted to assassinate King James the 1st of England and replace him with a Catholic monarch. Fawkes was discovered with explosives under the Houses of Parliament and apprehended. Following the round up of all the men involved, Parliament allowed the people to celebrate the King's escape by building a bonfire, if it was done safely, and the tradition still lives on today.

This year Hellifield House are holding a joint Halloween / Bonfire event on the 2nd of November, so why not go along and keep up the tradition?

The September village walk

With a couple of members on holiday and some deterred by the forecast of heavy rain, just 8 walkers set off for the September walk. Parking up in the station car park in Gargrave, the route initially took the Pennine Way, largely on well marked paths, with a number of stiles and a few modern metal gates to negotiate. Though damp, the predicted heavy rain did not materialize but care was needed as the stiles had become very slippery.

The terrain was gently undulating with no serious climbs, though approaching the crest of one slope we noticed a bull in the field ahead. Comforted by the knowledge we had a farmer in the group, we gave it a wide berth then resumed the track.

The lunch break came just after we joined the Leeds-Liverpool canal near East Marton. Our break was at Abbot's Harbour, a small café/restaurant. Six members partook of cake and coffee or tea, whilst two of us sat at the adjacent wall to enjoy our packup.

We returned to the canal towpath and followed it to Bank Newton with a small detour due to canal bridge works. From there it was a simple stroll to return us to the car park.

Apart from a very brief, light shower at the lunch stop we had no rain until we arrived back in Hellifield. So our thanks to leader Karen and to Eunice who designed the route.

The WI recipe

This month, rather than tell you what has happened at Hellifield WI, I thought I would let you know about a cookery demonstration I attended at Bolton Abbey WI. The presentation was run by Julie Clarke, and her able assistant.

Julie produced several dishes (a recipe is shared below) whilst chatting non-stop about living on a farm, taking in B&B guests and running a holiday cottage. This was a very entertaining and well-attended afternoon, and we were all treated to beautiful coffee cake at the interval. Julie for many years has been involved in the WI catering for the Yorkshire Show and is looking for additional volunteers for next year already. Sadly, many of us - including me - seem to be too busy to give our time to the wider WI events, but perhaps something to think about.

Our next Hellifield WI speaker is John Dawson of Bleakbank Farm and TV fame. John is always funny and as well as giving an insight into modern day farming, with all its trials and tribulations, keeps up the banter and jokes throughout.

As always, this meeting is open to other WIs and the general public, so if you have an interest in farming, or just want to hear a very good speaker, please come along and support the WI and John. After all, there is nothing worse than speaking to a small audience.

Our November meeting is at 7.15pm on Thursday the 21st at Hellifield Village Hall. Entry for guests is £4. Male and female visitors always welcome, so gentlemen, don't be shy!

Carol Weston Moore – Joint Secretary

Roasted Vegetable Plait

Ingredients:

- 12oz mixed vegetables
- olive oil
- 1 chopped onion
- 1 chopped garlic clove
- small can tomatoes
- 2oz gruyere cheese grated
- 4oz mascarpone cheese
- Cream
- 2 tbsp chopped chives
- 1 packet rolled puff pastry
- 1 egg beaten

Method: Put chopped vegetables in dish and sprinkle on olive oil and cook in oven at 200 degrees until soft. Fry onion, garlic & tomatoes until reduced and thickened, then add vegetables to this and season.

In a small bowl, mix half grated cheese with mascarpone, a small amount of cream and the chives and combine. Place pastry on greased baking tray and put vegetable filling in the centre and cover with cheese mixture leaving space for plaits.

Brush pastry with egg and cut diagonal strips in pastry round the edge and fold pastry strips over into a plait shape. Brush with egg and scatter on remaining cheese and black pepper.

Bake at 220 degrees for 30 minutes.

This can be frozen prior to final baking stage if required.

Hellifield speed monitoring

Further to our article in April, the Hellifield CSW Team has continued to carry out monitoring of traffic through our village, working from all our NY Police approved sites: by the village School, St Aidan's Church, the sub-station near the railway bridge and on Gisburn Road. Thankfully, we have noticed a reduction in speed limit excesses, although traffic volumes are up - as would be expected with all the summery weather that we had in June, July and August!

Our current concerns are with the volumes of HGV and tractors travelling through the village. Although there were reductions in freight train volumes on the Carlisle to Skipton route earlier in the year, restrictions have now been lifted by Network Rail. Hopefully, this may have an effect, but with people now expecting to receive goods ordered on-line within a day, freight trains can't facilitate this. (Who remembers the earlier, overnight Mail Delivery trains?) Traffic volumes on the A65 will only continue to increase, so all of us just need to appreciate other road users and the presence of pedestrians more.

We have received our first lot of traffic data from having the VAS radar being located adjacent to the School and this has been passed to the NY Police Community Speed Watch Team. Our own analysis of the data shows that there has been greater compliance to the signed speed limits at this end of the village, which is beneficial to the pupils and staff. However, we do still get the occasional driver doing over 60mph and 20% of all drivers exceed the signed speed limit. This is a concern, as lines of sight at the west end of Hellifield are less than they are by the Church.

Donations to the VAS savings account have now allowed us to request the Parish Council to place a further order with Swarco Traffic UK to buy another moveable VAS radar. This radar will allow us to be more flexible and consistent in our monitoring of traffic at both ends of the village and also on Gisburn Road. NYC (Highways) have now installed the new mounting post on Gisburn Road, since getting the order from our Council.

Certain concerns have been expressed in the village about our authority to carry out vehicle speed monitoring. Hellifield, Long Preston and Gargrave all have NY Police authorized volunteers to carry out Community Speed Watch sessions, at approved sites in their villages. If anybody has such concerns, they should speak to their local councilors, or the Police. The volunteers carrying out traffic monitoring have no powers of jurisdiction. We only pass our recordings onto NY Police for their attention.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who helped to run our Coffee Morning (see the next page) on the 14th of September, as well as those who provided raffle prizes, made kind donations, or just ate the Kit-Kats! We raised over £302.00 with your generous support. Thank you all.

Stay safe.

Paul A Emsley
CSW/VAS Co-Ordinator

The Community Speedwatch coffee morning

The Community Speed Watch Group led by Paul Emsley held a coffee morning at Hellifield Village Hall in September to raise awareness and raise money to provide more equipment to help reduce cars speeding through the village. The picture above shows a slightly slower mode of transport than the cars usually flying through our small but busy village.

St Aidan's Church

Our relaxed, traditional worship continues every Sunday at 9.30am- please join us as we pray for the needs of our village, our country and the world in these challenging times.

November is a month where we remember- both those who have died in the service of our country on Remembrance Day, and our own departed loved ones. We have special services for both:

Sunday 3rd November at 3pm- a service of Thanksgiving for the faithful departed. If you'd like someone remembered at this service, please let me know.

Sunday 10th November at 10.50am- our Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial outside St Aidan's, continuing in church. Please join us for this solemn occasion in the life of our village.

Local rail and bus conversation

Hello, my name is Jean, although I'm better known as Bunty to most Hellifield residents. I moved to Long Preston in February this year. I hadn't moved far as I was living in Hellifield. At around the same time I moved, changes were made to our local bus company run by Kirby Lonsdale Coach Hire Company.

Since these changes, which regular bus passengers will know about, there have been concerns about the change of company management.

Hearing of friends' and other passengers' experiences, we decided to set up a group with the objective of having a voice to improve communication with the bus company. It also brought up other issues, such as the 2 hourly Saturday service and no Sunday or bank holiday service. This was something of a concern to many people and how it affects them. Also suggested was having a late-night service and better facilities for people who are disabled or with mobility problems. For example: raised bus stop kerbs for wheelchair users.

Some of you will be aware of the Yorkshire Dales explorer train, which runs through to Rochdale and runs up to Ribbleshead twice a day on a Saturday. Hopefully, if people use the service it could lead to a regular, daily service in the future.

So, if you would like to become involved, or you have constructive ideas on the service that you need, or anything that comes to mind that would enable/encourage you to use the buses more, here's your opportunity.

The majority of drivers are fantastic, so it's not complaints about them but about getting the company to work with us for the benefit of all.

Please make initial contact by emailing trevmet@hotmail.co.uk if you have any comments or would like to be involved.

Cheesemonger of the year

The Courtyard Dairy is awarded 'Cheesemonger of the Year' at The Global Cheese Awards. Settle's 'The Courtyard Dairy' took home the prestigious title of 'Cheesemonger of the Year' at The Global Cheese Awards earlier this month. The Awards, originating in 1861 and one of the oldest cheese shows in the world, are held in high regard across the industry. The finest cheeses made throughout the world compete every year to win one of the prestigious awards.

This year's team of judges highlighted The Courtyard Dairy's, "very interesting and original selection ... particularly good to see a cheesemonger championing local producers."

The Courtyard Dairy co-owner Andy Swinscoe was overjoyed with the result, "It's a real credit to our skilled cheesemonger team, whose mission is to continually champion and support farm-made cheese in the UK. The unique range of small farm producers that we work closely with, both developing and supporting, really showed through."

Co-owner Kathy Swinscoe added, "The award recognises our local Dales community – they've really got behind the special, single-farm cheeses we stock, and make an effort to support them and us. Without our regular customers, we'd struggle!"

The Lift

I got stuck in a lift with a Londoner
Not where either of us wanted to be
I never once stopped talking
He just stared at me

I wanted some reassurance
To take my mind off our plight
He wanted peace and quiet
In case we were there all night

We sat for what seemed like hours
Me, chattering on and on
Never a sound passed from his lips
He just wanted to be gone

I told him my life story
I don't really think he heard
I gave him a chance to have his say
But he uttered not a word

Eventually we heard other voices
Our rescuers were here at last
I've never really seen anyone
Spring to their feet so fast

The doors of the lift were opened
I gave a shout of glee
My husband (the chap from London)
Shouted: "Thank God - I'm finally free!"

Remembering one of Hellifield's fallen from the second world war

As we approach Remembrance Sunday, I thought it appropriate to remember one of Hellifield's fallen from this conflict: 3060272 Private James Robert Rumney of the First Battalion, The Gordon Highlanders.

James Robert Rumney was born in 1918, the second son of Robert and Clara Rumney. The family ran a butcher's shop located at the end of a row of cottages known as the Fold on the main road next to the Temperance Hotel. The long-demolished shop is shown in the photograph opposite. James had three siblings, George b.1915, Mary b.1919 and Marjorie b.1925. All helped out in the family business.

James enlisted with the Gordon Highlanders in 1940 and was sent with his regiment to North Africa where he took part in the battle of El Alamein and the later campaigns in Tunisia. After the surrender of the Axis forces in North Africa on 13th May 1943, the battalion took part in "Operation Husky", the invasion of Sicily. After 38 days of hard fighting Sicily was safely in allied hands and the first battalion was withdrawn back to England to prepare and train for the invasion of Normandy (D-Day) .

The first battalion Gordon Highlanders landed on Juno Beach on the afternoon of the 6th June 1944 after the beachhead had been established and were immediately despatched to relieve the Airborne forces who had been holding nearby Bénouville Bridge (later renamed Pegasus Bridge) for over six hours before the first amphibious landings took place. At some point during the Normandy campaign James sustained wounds to one of his hands and was returned to England where he spent some time in Pinderfields Hospital Wakefield as shown in the attached newspaper cutting. James returned to his battalion in August 1944 and took part in the breakout from Normandy and the campaigns in Belgium and Holland before entering Germany and eventually crossing the Rhine in March 1945. On the 1st May 1945 the battalion took part in the assault on the village of Bremervorde in Lower Saxony. This would turn out to be the battalion's last action of the war. Sadly, James was to lose his life two days later, aged 27 years old, and only one day before the German forces in the west surrendered unconditionally to Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery on nearby Lüneburg Heath. The surrender preceded the end of World War two in Europe on the 8th May 1945.

James is buried at Becklingen War Cemetery on Lüneburg Heath, Germany, his headstone is shown in the attached photograph. He is also remembered on Hellifield St. Aidan's war memorial.

There's Lodgers at Number 5

A message arrived the other day,
from Maralyne who lives down our street.
Visitors had moved in under her stairs and now had out welcomed their stay.

They had moved in when she wasn't looking.
Had unpacked without making a sound.
She didn't recall making the booking
Arggh! what a panic when her lodgers were found.

She muttered to herself as she swept up the mess
"you blighters will all have to leave" and she emptied the cupboard, feeling the stress, took a deep breath and rolled up her sleeves.

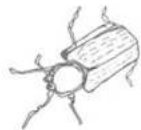

Now, you might have guessed it was woodworm, that had taken residence under the stairs.
She said "this arrangement is definitely 'short term'
You'd better start looking elsewhere".

She bought some 'stuff' to paint on the wood,
and bent double, she squeezed into the space.
She brushed it on as best she could with gloved hands and a mask on her face.

That 'stuff' ran down her arm, soaked into her sleeve but determined, she carried on.
At last, she was finished, the brush put down.
She hoped the blighters were gone!

She squeezed out of the cupboard and sat on the mat so pleased with a job 'well done'.
"Thank goodness I've finished, I hope that's that, surely now you'll have to move on".

She cleaned the brush, screwed the lid on the tin, re-read the instructions to quash any fears and looked down at her arm and said with a grin,
"Well at least you'll be alright for five years!"

Institute (Village Hall) news

I am pleased to announce that the Christmas Show this year will be in the form of a play called 'Spies and Socialites'. It is very loosely based on Pride and Prejudice, although from personal knowledge I can honestly say it is nothing like Pride and Prejudice, but is entertaining and funny. There will be a matinee performance on Thursday, 5th December starting at 2.00 pm (doors open at 1.30 pm), then two evening performances on Friday and Saturday 6th and 7th December starting at 7.30 pm (doors open at 7.00 pm). This will be a 'bring your own drinks' event. Tickets are £10 each and can be obtained from me – contact details are at the bottom of this article.

The two music nights held earlier this year, organised by Ian Ludlam-Brown, were very popular with a call for them to be held on a regular basis. Ian has decided to hand the organisation of future music nights to us and the trustees aim to continue with these, with the first taking place on 25th January 2025. Further detail will be in the December/January edition of the magazine.

It is that time of year when we will be contacting those of you who are members of our 200 Club, as the annual subscription of £15 is due. We don't have a full 200 people signed up, so it would be great if more of you out there would get in touch with our trustee responsible for the 200 Club, Paul Surbuts, by telephone on 0791 747 6852 or by email paulsurbuts@yahoo.co.uk

You will be given a number which will be entered into the monthly draw when three prizes of £25, £15, and £10 are awarded. In December, the prize money is doubled. You can win any number of times. The funds raised go towards routine maintenance costs.

We are planning events for next year and it is important you let our booking secretaries, Ken and Heather Leak, know as soon as possible on telephone 0783 7727 268 or 0779 0042 206 or email stanier@aol.com when your organisation wishes to book rooms during 2025 for coffee mornings, regular activities such as HelliScribes or one-off events such as children's parties.

At a recent trustees meeting, we decided on the priorities for future projects. These will be to install blinds in the fire doors in the Yorke Room and in conjunction with HelliArts mount art work on the walls. The two larger projects involve a structural change to the toilets to enable much easier disabled access and also an improved fire door at the front of the building. These projects can only be undertaken due to the generosity of all of you who attend our events. We are so grateful and thank you for your continuing support.

View from the Vicarage

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them. ('For the Fallen' - Laurence Binyon)

More poetry from me this month, but very different from Keats' wistful reflections on autumn in the October magazine.

Binyon's words will be read across the country at around 11am on Remembrance Sunday (November 10th) including at the war memorials in our village. I hope as many of our readers as possible will be able to attend our Act of Remembrance from 10.50am at the memorial and continuing immediately afterwards in St Aidan's. It will be, I'm sure, and as always, a profound and moving occasion.

But did you know that, unlike much of the famous poetry of WW1, Binyon's 'For the Fallen' was written within just a few weeks of hostilities breaking out? On reflection, it's a deeply sobering thought, as Binyon's biographer has noted: 'In its gravitas, its tenderness, and depth of grief, "For the Fallen" looks as if it should have appeared in The Times of 21 September 1918 not 1914.' The heavy casualties in the first weeks of World War 1 were, of course, as nothing compared to the nightmarish toll that had accumulated four years later. It's one of the appalling ironies of modern human history that the so-called 'war to end all wars' in fact laid the foundations, in many ways, for the even worse conflict that was to follow twenty years on.

There's been much talk recently in the serious press - appropriately so, I think-about the ability of our country to deal with hostile acts from groups and nations across the world. Much of the discussion has been pessimistic and, like so much of the news in the last few years, likely to make us very depressed if we ponder it without recourse also to something lighter and more cheerful! But in our 'season of Remembrance', I think we're called to give thanks ever more devotedly for those whose names are on our war memorial, and the millions like them who gave up their lives so that our nation might be free from tyranny and oppression.

Very few survivors now remain even from World War 2, whilst veterans of more recent overseas conflicts in the Falklands, the Gulf and Afghanistan face perhaps now a rather muted appreciation of their sacrifices from today's media and politicians. War is atrocious and, Christians have always said, should only ever be pursued to protect the innocent and vulnerable. Amidst so many distractions - and let's face it, many of those distractions are trivial in comparison - can we make time on November 10th to remember those immortalised by Laurence Binyon but who, over the course of the next four years, were destined to be joined by an unthinkable multitude of others?

Friends of Hellifield School AGM

On Monday, 30 September 2024, the Friends of Hellifield School met for our annual general meeting. Sarah Horton was appointed chair, with Lauren Popay appointed vice chair. Laura Welsh was appointed treasurer shadowed by Niamh Forster and finally, Victoria Richardson was appointed secretary.

During the meeting Laura Welsh gave the treasurer's report for income and expenditure for the academic year 2023/2024, with the total income coming to £5687.01 and total expenditure coming to £3352.63. This gave us a net surplus of £2334.38. In reviewing the accounts we have had many successful events last year: the coffee mornings, the 90s disco and our major fundraiser, the family funday, plus donations from the Hellifield Beer festival and Settle Rotary Club. This fundraising has allowed us to purchase the laptop charging cabinet, a bench for the garden, sports equipment, book bags for new starters and hoodies for year 6 leavers.

Up next was the chair's report given by Sarah Horton. Sarah reminded the meeting that the aim of the "Friends" is to 1: foster more extended relationships between staff, parents and other community groups and 2: to engage in activities which support and enhance the education of pupils, whilst adhering to the Charity Commission and our constitution. When Tracey Jones first created the Friends of Hellifield School, her idea was for the group to be open to the whole community. Therefore, we would welcome any volunteers to get involved, whether that be baking a cake, donating a prize or assisting at any of our fundraisers. Finally, Sarah personally wanted to thank the other committee members for their time and dedication, the various volunteers, parents, staff and the wider community, as without your continuing support the Friends achievements would not be possible.

The remainder of the meeting was taken up with exciting discussions of possible future events. Our first event for this academic year is a coffee morning on Saturday November 16th 2024 at 10am in the Hellifield institute. During this event we are aiming to have the usual raffle, tombola and cake stalls, with everyone welcome to attend. On the run up to Christmas we are aiming to organise Christmas carol singing in Hellifield House in conjunction with the church (date to be confirmed) and a Christmas fair which will take place in school (date to be confirmed). If any businesses would be interested in a stall at the Christmas fair please get in contact for more details. Alternatively, if you would like to support our fundraising efforts throughout the year but don't know how you can do this, please consider joining our easyfundraising page (<http://www.easyfundraising.org.uk/causes/friends-of-hellifield-community-primary-school/>), which donates money to our charity when you spend money online.

If you require more information about the Friends of Hellifield Primary School or would like to offer your help with fundraising or donations, please get in touch with Victoria Richardson on 01729 850628 (Email: v.r.richardson@outlook.com).

North Craven Flower Club

Sometimes the best arrangements are made in items that you may have around your home and garden. An old vase you inherited from your Granny, your favourite teapot or in this case, a garden riddle or sieve!

This arrangement idea appeared in the Flower Arranger magazine in the summer edition in 2021. It uses an old garden riddle and test tubes that have been inserted into the wire of the riddle. These are then filled with water and flowers and greenery from the garden. The test tubes can be held more firmly with Oasis Fix which is a cross between plasticine and Blu Tac but is also waterproof and ideal for holding mechanics in place in or out of water.

The Flower Arranger magazine is published four times a year and has lots of suggestions for floral arrangements as well as tips for conditioning flowers and flowers/shrubs to grow in your garden to make flower arranging a little less expensive. You can order it online by visiting the NAFAS website: www.nafas.org.uk

You can order paper copies, take out a subscription either in paper format or online and there are also videos of demonstrations to give you more ideas.

Tickets are now available for our Open Meeting to be held at Gargrave on 14th November starting at 7.30pm. Tickets can be ordered through club members or by ringing 7710852238.

HELLIFIELD WI

Recently celebrated 75 years since the first Hellifield meeting was held.

Since then, where possible, we have continued to run a monthly meeting.

Our present meetings are every third Thursday evening at 7.15pm in the Village Hall. Non-members are always welcome for a small fee of £4 and we aim to have interesting speakers or activities each month.

We have tried to develop a more modern approach to our meetings and focus on getting together as a social group each month (not much Jerusalem and Jam). You will see from the picture attached we like to party.

The Smile Train

I would like to thank everyone who has given donations and/or bought articles I've knitted for The Smile Train. I have now sent another £150 (gift aided) to the charity for an operation on a child born with a cleft palate.

Globally, one in every 700 babies is born with a cleft and, unfortunately, treatment for this is out of reach for many. The company operates in two hospitals in Malawi, where Stephanie, our eldest daughter, works, as well as in many other countries. We have visited Malawi. The people are so friendly, but it is a poor country, with no mineral deposits to boost their economy. It has also suffered several major disasters in recent years, including two cyclones, but is rarely mentioned on our news. Many are struggling. Reservoir walls have collapsed and also houses as they are not built with the firm foundations and structure we are used to.

I also wish to thank 'The House that Jack Built' in Settle. Several of the articles for babies and children have been sold there and no commission is taken. This is a wonderful shop - an Aladdin's cave. Do go and explore it, especially if you are looking for a special present, maybe for a youngster for Christmas. We are so lucky to have so many independent local shops to support.

I am also very grateful to Sheila Metcalfe who has enhanced many articles with her beautiful crochet work. She always seems able to turn some very basic knitting into something attractive. Such a talented lady.

At present I have two adult scarves to sell - one is purple and white, the other is orange and brown. Someone might like them, perhaps for a gift. All proceeds go to the Smile Train.

Thank you advertisers

A big thank you to all our advertisers who have again agreed to support the magazine for another year. Businesses both large and small, as well as several community groups, have renewed their advertising contracts. A welcome also to those firms who have recently taken out advertising space.

Without the support of these advertisers the Hellifield Herald could not run, so we are extremely grateful for your continued support.

We wish your business and community group success in the coming year.

Report from Hellifield Mothers' Union

At our October meeting held in the Yorke Room, Sheila Swinbank welcomed both members and visitors. She lit a candle to remember those not able to be with us, and we heard news that Annie was now out of hospital, following her hip replacement operation.

We celebrated Sue's birthday this month, and she read prayers for those suffering from domestic violence. As our speaker from Age Concern was unable to come, we joined in with several games of Beetle. There was a lot of fun and laughter, with prizes for the top and bottom scores. We shared very welcome refreshments afterwards .

Compliments to the Hellifield Herald

From time to time, we receive comments saying how much someone has enjoyed a particular article, or the magazine in general. Below is one such comment, so, with their permission, we've included one in the November edition.

'I would like to say firstly what a wonderful magazine The Hellifield Herald is.

I particularly like the articles entitled: Memories of Hellifield from Brian Shorrock by Ken Leak. On reading the piece in the May 2024 edition I came across a photograph of several gentlemen at the WMC in the 1930s (page 40).

I was pleased to see a photo of my late granddad Walter Barnes (7th row r.h. side) – known as Frank – who worked on the railway, I also loved the article in the March 2024 edition about Thornview Road. My grandparents first lived on Midland Terrace ( where my Mum was born) then moved to Thornview Road. My Mum used to talk about a Mrs Shorrock (who would probably have been Brian's Mum).

My grandparents were Mr Frank Barnes & Mrs Ada Barnes – Frank sadly died when I was around 3 and Ada in 1988. My mum Dorothy (nee Barnes) died in 2015 and would have loved to have read your magazine and seen the photograph.

Your magazine is filled with memories of days gone by in Hellifield, and I look forward to reading more about the old times.

Once again, lovely magazine.

Keep up the good work.'

Please could you give some time to think about anyone you know who would benefit from using the Home Library Service. It doesn't have to be on a permanent basis, maybe someone you know who would be grateful for having books delivered during the winter months, but equally it could be a permanent option.

A friendly volunteer from the Home Library Service will contact people who would like to know more about it, to discuss likes and dislikes, favourite authors, genres etc. The volunteer will choose suitable books/audio books and deliver these to the person's home on a regular basis.

Online Talk: The Flora and Fauna of Malham Tarn National Nature Reserve

Wednesday 4 December, 5:00pm

National Trust Property Ecologist Dr. Elizabeth Sullivan will talk about Malham Tarn National Nature Reserve and its habitats, in particular those at the Tarn – England’s highest lime-rich lake and the moss, its wetland areas. She will also introduce some of the key flora and fauna at the site, providing insight into how they are monitored and managed.

Online Talk: A Nature-Based Approach to Flood Management

Wednesday 22 January, 5:00pm

Ousewem is an innovative flood resilience project identifying and delivering nature-based solutions (NbS) and natural flood management (NFM) to reduce flood risk in vulnerable North Yorkshire communities, spanning Yorkshire’s Swale, Ure, Nidd and Ouse (SUNO) catchments. The project, funded by Defra is part of the £200 million Flood and Coastal Innovation Programmes managed by the Environment Agency. The programmes will drive innovation in flood and coastal resilience and adaptation to a changing climate.

Amanda Crossfield from Yorkshire Dales Rivers Trust – one of Ousewem’s delivery partners – will provide insights into its ongoing work using NbS and NFM techniques which aim to strengthen flood resilience in at-risk North Yorkshire communities whilst enhancing the local environment and supporting a sustainable, adaptive agriculture landscape.

All talks are free – but as a charity we always welcome a small donation.

Kettlebells

Looking for a workout class that meets you where you are and builds on that? In my humble opinion, Jo Holroyde's (formerly Elsmore until her spectacular wedding to Pete in September) really wonderful Kettlebells class is the thing.

Jo, a fully trained Kettlebells instructor, leads you through 30 minutes of standing exercises, followed by 20 minutes of floor routine, closing with 10 minutes of relaxing warm-down. All exercises to an upbeat soundtrack, with calming sounds in warm-down. Weights range from 2kg to 12kg - I started four months ago with 6kg but can now manage 10kg for most moves

- and I'm 68 - someone who hadn't been to a gym class in years and years.

After the workout, you feel sort of tired yet really energised at the same time. I'm sleeping better and feel much fitter. My blood pressure and 'at rest' pulse have come down. It's simply great.

However challenging a move is, you know it only lasts one minute, then Jo calls out 'change now' and describes the next move. She really knows her stuff.

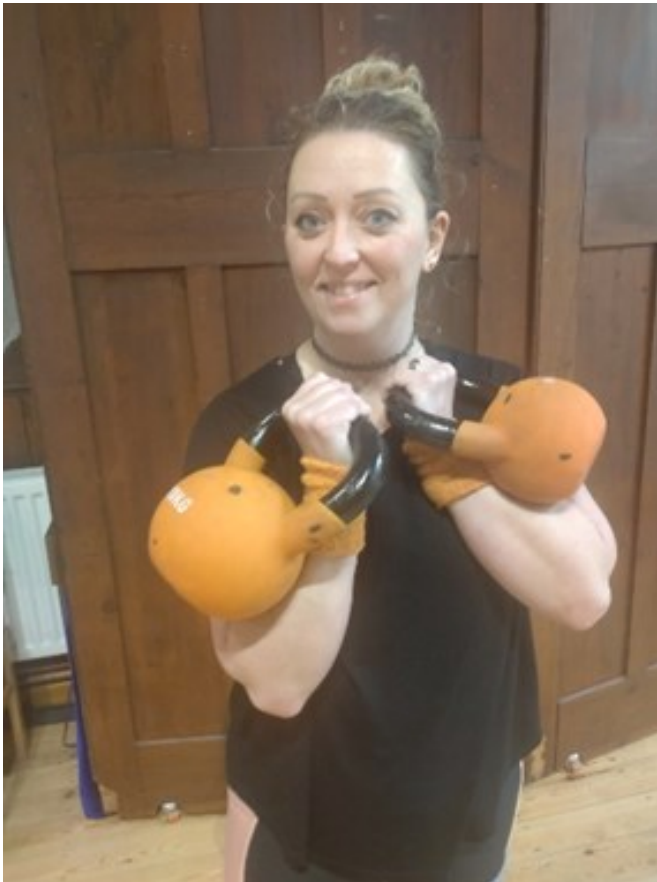

As well as running Kettlebells, Jo is a care worker, so the health of her clients is important to her.

You don't have to be super fit to start - I certainly wasn't! I just cannot recommend Jo's Kettlebells class enough. Give it a try.

Kettlebells - every Wednesday, Wesley Centre (aka Methodist Chapel) 18:00 & 19:30

Ian Ludlam-Brown's birthday bash

Ian Ludlam-Brown was 65 in October and celebrated with a great party at the Village Hall. The photo shows everyone having a great time, dancing to our very own local band.

Thank you Ian and Fiona, we all had a great time.
